Its structured into three levels, for a total area of about 1180 sqm. It has 10 different exclusive bedrooms (with en-suite bathrooms) having a wonderful view of the surrounding landscape. Each of them is elegantly furnished and decorated with prestigious paintings and fabrics. The dwelling is completed by a restaurant with a professional kitchen, three halls, a bar with a cellar on the ground floor, an apartment for the staff, technical rooms, and an office. Rich in history, this fascinating villa used to be the country residence for one of the most influential families of the town of Siena during the mid-16th century. It has been beautifully restored by recovering the original materials and paying attention to the characteristic architecture of Tuscany. The most modern comforts easily adapt with the elegance of the antic villa, reaching an excellent result: returning this property to its former splendor.
